INTERSTELLAR FLIGHT

AT THE CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL OF BALTIMORE

Today, everyone is reading about space flights. The possibility is as exciting to us moderns as the water-route to the Indies was to Columbus. In a flight to the outer realms of space, the Staff of the 1953 TROUBADOUR has seen an analogy to the educational program of the Catholic High School of Baltimore. Actually, Interstellar Voyages have been going on at TCHS since the school opened in 1939. To three great bodies flights have been made, are being made, by each faculty member, student, graduate . . .

Thinking of ourselves as astronauts, are we not making flights from the material world of brick and stone up into the mysterious, lovely, and challenging realms of the spiritual, the social, and the intellectual? The buzzing labs and classrooms, the cheering gym, the applauding auditorium, the milling hallways, the sun-lit campus, the quiet chapel . . . all are runways for the take-off. Only the single individual who dares the flight can tell how pure, how breathless is the experience. Each of us must man her own space ship. Daily, our faculty plots our flights to the Worlds of Goodness, Beauty, Truth. In the measure in which each of us has participated in Catholic High's educational program, in that measure have we flown out to these worlds that beckon luminously before us.

On this conception we have interpreted the school year of 1952 and 1953 and have so recorded it in this annual.

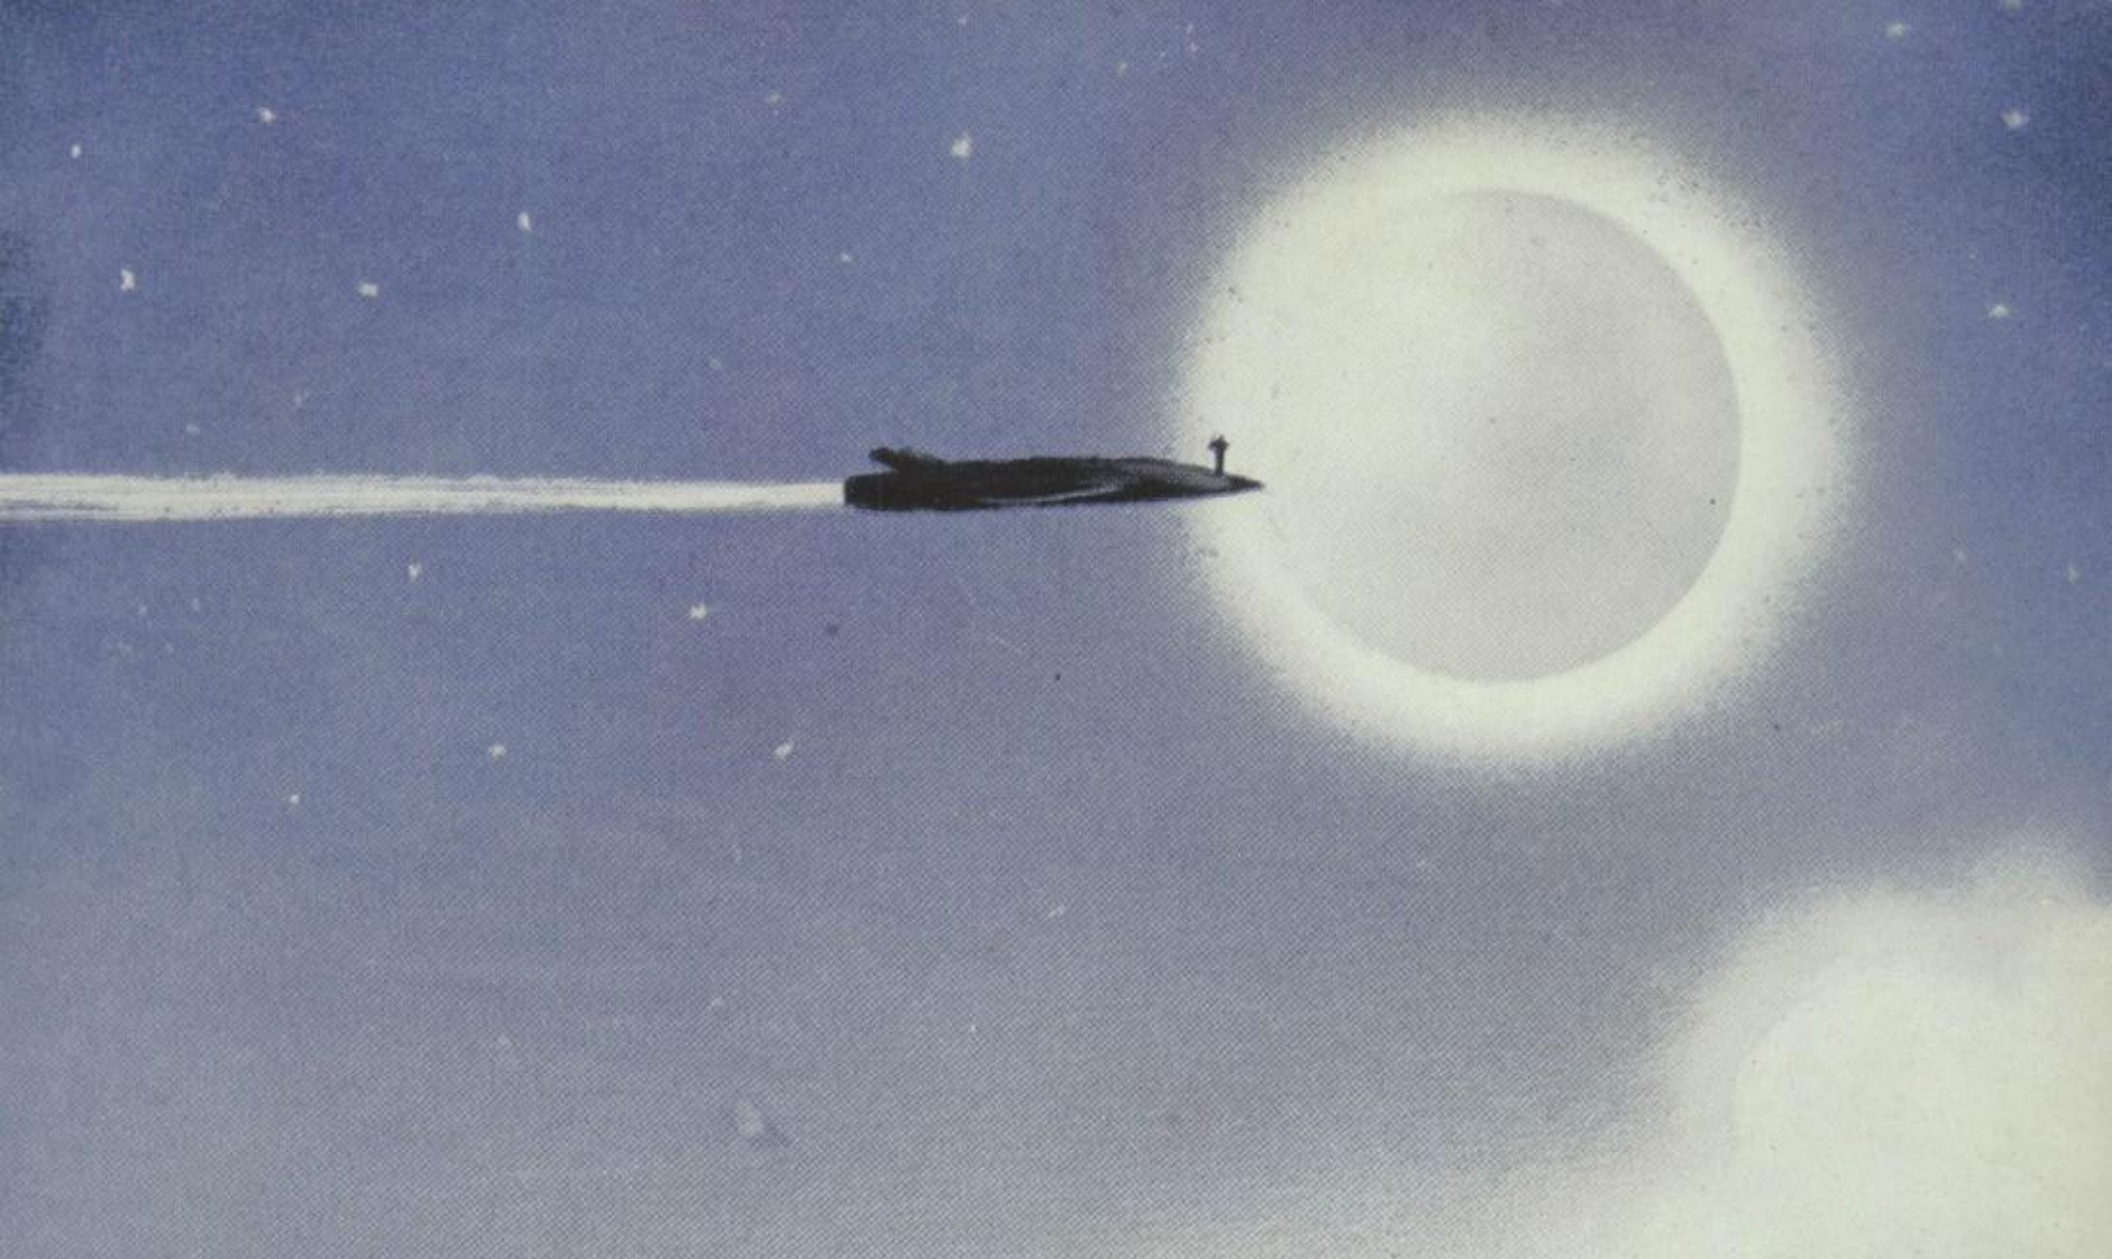

Follow with us, then, the record of Interstellar Flight at TCHS. Recall your position in the flight ship. Know that new worlds lie yet before the inquiring, soaring spirit of your beloved Alma Mater.

FLIGHT TO

THE SPIRITUAL

In analogy, we take flight to the spiritual. From the Son, Light of the World, come cosmic rays of grace, refracted through Mary, Prism of the Godhead, to make our flights to the social and intellectual spheres meaningful and possible. Wonderful as are those two worlds emerging before our excited eyes, we know they are only satellite stations. The great achievement is spiritual. How well we explore the worlds of Truth and Beauty, through flight to the spiritual, will determine that inevitable solo toward the Center of the Universe, God Alone.

Thus, it is not possible to isolate the spiritual, for that must be pervading, the determining cause of every flight. Activities of a spiritual character are recorded in this section only to simplify the representation. We invite you, then, to recall the cosmic rays of grace which were channeled particularly for you through the weekly Mass, the Sacraments, Chapel visits, instructions, retreat, and the various religious clubs.

Freshmen arriving at TCHS are usually in two categories: those who feel instantly at home and those who find the atmosphere quite new. The former come from the ten diocesan grade schools in Baltimore taught by Glen Riddle Franciscan Sisters; the latter hail from other schools and are new, perhaps, to the Franciscan spirit of their faculty. For TCHS students, their teaching Sisters have three aspects: before school they are friends and confidantes who pray for anything from ill parents to a prom date. From 9 to 3, they are instructors and disciplinarians, instilling knowledge, keeping order, encouraging, reminding, inspiring. After 3 p.m., they become advisors and moderators in the crowded extra-curricular program which aims to help each student, if she so wishes, develop hidden talent and social awareness.

CELESTIAL POWERHOUSE

Cosmic rays of grace sought to contact TCHS astronauts through the newly formed Apostles League. This spiritual society aims to promote religious vocations through, primarily, prayer. Vocation display and Vocation Program staged March 19 by the League called attention to the work of religious orders in the Church. Cosmic rays of joy and charity penetrated TCHS halls during the Christmas season. Pictures on pages 14 and 15 recall moments of joy each student realized in giving and sharing. Large spread is from the Tableau which closed the Christmas Entertainment on December 18 by the Glee Club, Drama Guild, and Orchestra. During the holidays, the Glee Club sang for patients at St. Joseph Hospital and Eudowood Sanatorium.

HARNESSING SOLAR ENERGY FROM ETERNAL SON,

DYNAMIC. Bishop Fulton J. Sheen charms 11,000 Catholic students of Baltimore who attended the CSMC Rally, October 22, in Fifth Regiment Armory. CSMC (Catholic Mission Crusade) functions through two representatives from each homeroom; contributed $1200 to home and foreign missions. Formal dance in January, Rally in Cathedral on Palm Sunday, and trip to Washington, May 23, spotlighted major activities. Right, girls visit Eucharistic King during lunch hour. Weekly religious instruction by Fr. Echle is supplemented by classroom instruction based on Quest for Happiness series of Dr. Elwell. Zeal of diocesan priests—Fathers Yealdhall, Reinsfelder, Gadow, and others—brings Sacrament of Penance to student body every Thursday and Friday.

POST-RETREAT SNACK. Joan Zeller, Beatrice Cimino, and Phyllis Kresslein play hostesses to Retreat Master Rev. Francis Fortenbaugh and assistants, Fathers Zeiler and Kresslein, at close of Annual Retreat held January 22, 23, 24. Phyllis didn't mind posing with her missionary brother on furlough from Puerto Rico missions.

PROGRAM FOR PEACE. During October, Section 4A, like all TCHS homerooms, promoted potent means of universal peace, the Family Rosary. S. Ellis, D. Tilghman, G. Schafer, J. Colleran, D. Baker (l-r) participate in panel where J. Cassidy (standing) relates world situation to religious beliefs.

MARY DIFFUSES COSMIC RAYS OF GRACE.

Far-soaring flights to the spiritual are achieved through membership in the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The object of membership is personal sanctification and the spread of Christ's Kingdom through devotion to the Mother of God. Through the Sodality representatives, elected in each homeroom in September, the Inner Circle is encouraged, reception of Holy Communion on Sodality Sundays in the parishes is stressed, First Saturday observance is promoted. The Sodality Drive during Advent, which urged personal sacrifice as preparation for the Feast of Christmas, resulted in a contribution of $1180 to furnishings for Our Lady of the Angels Chapel. The Diocesan High School Sodality Convention held at TCHS on February 22, the religious drama presented on February 2, and the Campus Procession and Crowning on May 29 were the highlights of the Sodality year.

BEAUTY

The world of beauty stretches before us at TCHS. Its lights shimmer in the social activities offered to all. Beauty of soul is for everyone—the loveliness of knowing Christ and loving Him in His creatures. Yet, for some, flight to the beautiful may also be a physical thing: the keen joy of competitive sport, the rhythmic grace of dancing. For some, beauty may also be a mental thing: realized in the challenge of the scientific, the stimulus of publications or debate where the mystery of words is unveiled and the magic of thought released. For some, beauty is visual or audial: a stroke of the brush on canvas, the sound of the lark in song or string. For others, beauty may also be found in the drama, in moments when reality is transformed into the imaginary, life into the sublime.

Whatever this flight to the beautiful was for you, find it recalled in this section in enduring word and picture.

MISS EFFICIENCY. Above, Lola (Anne) Noonan reads mother's admonitions.

On February 12, 13, 14 and 15, the Drama Guild presented Belles on Their Toes after several weeks of never-to-be forgotten rehearsals. This hilarious comedy of the roaring twenties portrays life in the Gilbreth family of twelve when Mother goes on a European lecture tour. Anne and Ernestine, made to forego dates by economy-minded Martha, become romantically involved with Dr. Bob, the new family doctor, Al Lynch, the Nantucket hot dog, and Mr. Loring, an unexpected visitor. Cousin Leora's unwelcome visit doesn't do a thing to raise the Gilbreths' spirit. Neither does the discovery that Mr. Hathaway, a roomer, has left with $190 hoarded dollars. His arrest and exoneration coincide with Mother's return for an all's-well-that-ends-well conclusion. The antics of Tom the handyman, Helen Marschat's surprise third performance, and the Old Home Week atmosphere of TCHS audiences made the 1953 senior play an unforgettable event.

BUZZ BOMB! Joan (Anne) Cassidy (p. 26) shows photographer how she felt at round of applause for her stellar role on Thursday and Friday performances.

Through the swift pens of its journalists, the flying fingers of its typists, and the click of its cameras, the 1953 Troubadour staff has sped off in imaginative flight to the realm of interstellar space. Columbia's award of First Place and National's All-American only filled 1953 staff members with a yen for greater achievements.

Press meets at Villanova, September 19, at Johns Hopkins, April 18, enabled members to compare professional and social notes with fellow journalists. The cultural jaunt to Philadelphia, April 30, with the Orchestra members, and the cheerful stint of entertaining senior members on May 20 were lighter moments in a busy year.

LAUNCHING GUIDED MISSILES

A walk-away game for Varsity and Jayvee with Dundalk High opened the 1953 basketball season. In the Catonsville match, the Varsity pulled quickly ahead; later found Glen Burnie close going until the last-quarter's vigorous recovery. St. Hubert's was a gift, but the trip to Philadelphia and Northern hospitality did for excitement. With Milford Mill, the Varsity almost came a cropper; yet the reserve strength shown in the last quarter spurt saved the day.

St. Agnes' Nurses and St. Mary's, Leonardtown, were pleasant meets but no challenge. The Alumnae toss-up was the season's crispest game. Former stars could still make an explosive attack. Seton, perennial rivals who closed the season, played plucky and spirited games but lost their puff in the second half. Close guarding and the TCHS principle of tight team work kept the Green and Golders the most formidable team in town.

SPOTTING FLYING SAUCERS

Announcement of intramurals has more effect on TCHS than the Pied Piper had in the old story. As soon as Mrs. Case announces a tourney, out comes a tremendous claque of class teams, class rooters, homeroom teachers, home-made cheerleaders—each and all sparring for a trophy. In the March basketball tournament, Section 1B played-off 4B. Both sections were well staffed with Varsity and Jayvee players so that a tight match ensued, but 1B pulled ahead, 26-19 for the trophy. In the dodgeball tournament, 7C barely clipped 2C, 13-11. In the badminton championship, Arlene Schuldtz defeated Betty Calligan. Bowling tournaments went on daily at Vilma Bowling Alley. Play-offs, managed by Rosemary DiPaulo, found the team pictured at the left panel, bottom, the champs of TCHS. Swimming, skating, horseback riding are enjoyed individually through AA membership at Carlin's and Wagon Wheels Stables by those interested.

THE INTELLECTUAL

The solar body Truth is for us the world of knowledge. As our minds climb into the cloud-banked realms of science, literature, mathematics, languages, truths are illuminated by classroom teaching and personal study. All first and second year astronauts are put through a basic training of sound academic and vocational subjects that prepare them to approach literately the more difficult specialized flights demanded of upperclassmen. In the third year, each astronaut must choose the orbit in which she will solo: the professional, prepared for by Latin-Science, Modern Classical courses; the business, prepared for by the Academic Commercial, General Business classes.

In this section you will find a record of space flight to the heavenly body, Truth. Perhaps you are only a little freshman or sophomore, still in basic training. Perhaps you are a junior winging off in short, controlled flights. Perhaps you are about to graduate, intensive training past, the new world of tomorrow rising before your excited vision. Whatever your position in the flight to the world of Truth, recall that the possession of Eternal Truth will determine ultimately your success.

PRIMARY SPACE STUDENTS LEARN

SWASHBUCKLING SENIORS. Caught tight as Br'er Rabbit in Tar Baby, frisky little freshies (left panel, top) fall victim of senior authority on Freshman Day, October 2. Below them, Section 4D learns how to use Activity Period. Yardstick helps Emily Kaffle put approval on uniforms. Activity Period—8:45 to 9:05—takes care of sundry details of homeroom life.

FRESHMAN HOW-DEE-DO'S. Penelope DeFrancis and Mary Garrity (bottom panel, right) get exact change for bus fare. This enables the Baltimore Transit Company to move quickly from TCHS loading station. Next, center, Joann Picarella and Carolyn Knauer arrange flowers about homeroom shrine during Mary's month. Sodality assigns special day for each section to decorate shrines in main corridors during May.

SECTION 6D. Room 210. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Catharine. Reps. Joanne Tague and Joan Shinsky (p. 47, extreme left) demonstrate how reps are responsible for closing windows during fire drill which customarily empties building in one minute, 45 seconds. (During real drill, reps don't wait to be photographed.) Notables were Elizabeth Wachter who made the JV; Anne Wilson, the debating team.

SECTION 5D. Room 209. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Margaret Dolores. Class Reps Alice Rogers and Carole Gulliver (p. 47, bottom panel, center) tote busy faculty member's briefcase and equipment down TCHS long halls. Section 5D hustled off to fine school achievements. Patsy Parks was high salesman; class came in fourth in Magazine Drive with 158 per cent.

FLIGHT-DECK MANEUVERS,

SECTION 1D. Room 211. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Rose Angela. Reps Nijole Brazauskas and Mary Bellar (top, right) try out modernistic furniture in new home-ec living room. Sprightly cadets of 1D quickly adjusted to TCHS pace; pulled 210 per cent in Catholic Review Drive; 220 in Troubadour Patron Drive. Mary Boia was high salesman in Catholic Magazine Drive.

SECTION 2D. Room 206. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Joan Ignatius. Reps Nancy DiForte and Janet Dickenson (second from top) are checking on auditorium after performance—customary rep detail. High salesman in Magazine Drive was Marie Deck. Class scored 114 per cent in Review Drive; 338 in Patrons; loyally supported senior play, operetta, and bingo projects.

SECTION 3D. Room 207. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Paul Helene. Class Reps Rosalie Janowski and Marlene Idzik (third from top) find no sweeter freshman pastime than comparing snapshots of eighth grade graduation. Carole Karp was high salesman. Class achieved 108 per cent in Magazine Drive.

SECTION 4D. Room 208. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Cecil Catherine. Fourth from top, Class Reps Mary Murphy and Mary Mirassou light candles for recitation of Rosary their class said at Our Lady's Shrine in October. Class early made 100 per cent in AA membership; later in Troubadour Subscription Drive.

FRESHMEN. Row 1 (l-r): A. Rott, A. Ruth, M. Idzlik, C. Karp, J. Himpler, J. Chumley, E. Gunther, R. Hare, P. Heckler, I. Hasselberger, M. Belan, M. Roguski, C. Knauer, D. Hubbell. Row 2: L. Fabislak, H. Ottey, C. Kiper, R. Janowski, F. Huber, H. Burness, M. Caretti, P. Beresh, V. Annarino, M. Booth, M. Breseia, M. Canton, G. Papilon, G. Kresslein. Row 3: E. Allenbough, A. A. Hellman, M. Imwald, P. Jones. Row 4: G. Bittner, P. Hellman, M. Gzowska, J. Oronson, P. Hughes, J. Jaworski, V. Kowalewski, L. Barger, A. Veges, D. Huemmer, B. Kosker, R. Baroch, L. Bauernschub, C. Burgess. Row 5: P. Klingmeyer, M. Hayes, M. Baghmann, P. Beresh, S. Breir, J. Barezak, B. Pae, D. Freeman, R. Galeone, F. Angevine, M. Bunn, M. Kiel, B. Herman, L. Hudlicka, A. Gutenko, C. Hockaday.

THEY ARE SOON ABLE TO

WORLD VIEW. History, a freshman "must," acquires added perspectives through library assignments. Here, B. Cain points to historic and literary sections of the United States as a group from 1D follows intently. Ancient, medieval, and modern worlds are surveyed through Fr. Anthony Ostheimer's text, Christianity and Civilization.*

LIFE CAN BE INTERESTING. Freshmen M. Little, J. Winterling, and J. Dew will soon sample their luscious-looking homemade pies.

ARE AIRBORNE TO

WHAT WOULD WE DO WITHOUT THEM?
Stellar workers in the undergrad division of the patron drive don their Sunday look. Cherubic?

FAMISHED FRESHIES. After doing an heroic job on Latin and algebra, Section 6D rushes for hot platters and tasty sandwiches served by helpful sophomores. Seniors and freshmen attend first lunch period—12 to 12:30; juniors and sophomores the second.

FRESHIES, THE BEST IS YET TO BE!
Above, right, some seniors in annual production remind you that your turn is coming—1956. Below, right, art students are dabbing in final dash of color on screen for Mikado. This may be you—someday.

SECONDARY SOLAR PILOTS,

SECTION 1C. Room 202. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Manuelita. Reps Nancy Caruso and Mary Thommen (left, top) look very cozy in the library, mulling over Caesar (and Ihries' potato chips). Section 1C galloped off in Preakness fashion in all activities: came out first in the Review and Magazine Drives, with Agnes Geraghty and Mgt. DeVito second and fifth highest salesmen in school. In the Review Drive, Elizabeth Wagner placed highest.

SECTION 2C. Room 112. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Genevieve. Reps Mary Strunge and Pat Marowski (second from top, left) shrug into coats after their turn at locker room traffic—detail of all reps. This is a musical-minded section: it boasted of eleven members of the Orchestra and two meteors in the Operetta. Loretta Barezak and Diana Breighner were star salesmen.

SECTION 3C. Room 203. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Jeanette Clare. Reps Sheila Duggan and Kathleen Kulacki (third from top) show how to make a sale in school stationery shop. Section 3C soared over 100 per cent line in all activities; lead the school in Patron Drive; watched yearbook assembled from puzzled proximity. Notables were Pat Dietrich, Sodality Treasurer, Beverly Brandt and Mary Brailsford, yearbook members, Cunigunda, mystery member.

SECTION 4C. Room 204. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. Irmalita. Fourth from top, Reps Phyllis Keiser and Sherold Holmes stop at hall fount to cool off after vigorous gym session. Lucille Janda and Gerry Koerner were tops in Magazine and Review Drives; Kathryn Anderson, Elizabeth Kennedy, Mary Holdorf made the Troubadour staff. Class paced 1C in vigorous year-round competition.

ADJUSTED BY INVALUABLE EXPERIENCE,

SWEET CONCOCTIONS. E. Kennedy and K. Anderson (left, top) sell a little nourishment to H. Jeffry and J. Barber at evening entertainment. Below them, Section 1C celebrates Magazine victory by touring Philadelphia with Sr. Manuelita and Sr. Arnoldine. Fels Planetarium enchanted, Wanamaker's dazzled, but Woolworth's supplied souvenirs of trip. At extreme right of page, D. Delcher, M. Vito, and G. Koerner, strong supporters of Review Drive, scan paper for school news.

SECTION 7C. Room 304. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. Francis Marie. Reps Joan Buck and Shirley Brandt (bottom panel) prepare slide of spirogyra in biology class. Many Glee Club members were numbered in 7C. Barbara Kenney, Carmella Obrkeit, Katherine Skinner sang in Operetta chorus. Shirley Brandt and Gloria Schaeffer made the JV. Martha Cartier was high salesman.

SECTION 6C. Room 300. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Jane Frances. Reps Geraldine Meyer and Eileen Mason (p. 54, extreme right) put thumbtack in Sodality bulletin board which reminded students to pray the rosary. Ballet dancer Pat McMahon made the Talent Show; Elizabeth DePolio was high salesman; Magazine Drive soared to 133 per cent in this class of art students.

SECTION 5C. Room 205. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Lucetta. Class Reps Jean Magitti and Pat Hirt (p. 54, bottom, center) at phone: "You're sure you couldn't use another subscription to the Review? . . ." Talent sparkled variously; Lorraine Goodwill had a lead in Calvert's musicale; Pat Hirt danced in both TCHS and Calvert's operettas; Loretta Flashell bowled to fame; Geraldine Hammond lead in Patron Drive.

JUNIOR VELOCITIES

MINOR STELLAR LUMINARIES, EXERCISED

PRIVILEGE OF A LIFETIME. Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, left, graciously autographs for CSMC President Jean Meckel and Secretary Gloria Socha. Below, Mayor Thomas D'Allesandro poses for Sodality Secretary Pat Cavanaugh and Prefect Julia Vachino at Catholic Youth Week ceremony, Oct. 18. Bottom, center, Anne Metzger unfurls pennant earned in sports for Muriel Himpler, TCHS blazer girl. AA Awards also went to A. Schuldt, R. Cituk, M. McFaul, M. Kuhn, H. Kirby, R. Carmen, M. Silk, at assembly, May 8.

IS EVERYBODY HAPPY? Mary Ruark, Rita Breen, Mgt. Heilman, and Jeanette Wisnowsky (p. 62, extreme right) are top-notchers in boosting TCHS projects. These high salesmen in the upperclass bracket helped push the Catholic Magazine Drive to its dazzling peak of 116 per cent. Girls are seen here enjoying the inauguration of President Eisenhower on school TV.

HIGHLY DEBATABLE. Eleanor Williams and Pat Hurtt (p. 63, extreme left) primp up before debate with Mt. St. Joe. Debaters beat Seton, Calvert, Loyola, Towson Catholic. Eleanor, League Secretary for two years, was voted in again for third term. Pat Hurtt won first place ($200 bond) in city finals of Voice of Democracy; fifth place in state finals of Hearst Tournament of Orators; first place in Loyola Oratorical Contest.

SECTION 5B. Room 201. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Thomasine. Class Reps Geraldine Brzezcka and Dolores Beck (p. 63, bottom, center) open double doors of classroom to provide for quick exit and speed up traffic between periods. Jean Promutico crowned Blessed Mother at Junior Prom; Mary Mack, Carolyn Kiper, and Regina Hartman sang in the operetta. High salesman was Betty Jones.

BY KNOWLEDGE,

SECTION 1B. Room 107. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Claretta. Class Reps Norma DiMartino and Carolyn Gaff (right) inspect latest AA news release on dodgeball schedule. Diverse talents characterized this Latin-Science group. Iris Ringsdorf, Anne Metzger made the Varsity; Angela Izdebska and Shirley McNamara performed with cheerleaders. Pat Hayes and Mary Snyder were prominent on the Troubadour; B. Sandkuhler scored on the Highway. Class score for Review Drive soared to 124 per cent.

SECTION 2B. Room 108. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Imelda. Reps Pat Cavanaugh and Elizabeth Quijarro (second from top) check to see if first bell—8:40—has rung yet. Carmella Orlando brought 2B fame as a cheerleader; Joan Kasal and Elizabeth Lochte were in the Drama Guild; Arlene Schultztz was AA Manager. Class went over the top in all drives—made 112 per cent in Catholic Review.

SECTION 3B. Room 214. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Germaine. Class Reps Mgt. McKay and Irene Rohe, third from top, gloat over new-style class rings with shimmering green stone. Kathleen Klein was top salesman for 3B as well as sax player in orchestra. Patricia Lane starred in the Mikado; Irene Rohe, Joan Mainolfi, and Ann Snitzger were in the chorus.

SECTION 4B. Room 213. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Constantine. Reps Phyllis Gronchi and Barbara Feiler (fourth from top) cheerily pile up books at end of day after completing their various duties as class officers. This section was famous for JV players Rosalie Gayhardt and Joanne Grabowski, Troubadour writer Mary Earhardt. It placed second highest in Magazine Drive with 157 per cent; second highest in Patron Drive with 406 per cent.

JUNIORS. Row 1 (l-r): M. Hartman, J. McCloskey, G. Markiewicz, A. Mueller, L. Nuedling, G. Badolato, R. Skinner, R. Menin, L. Piniecke, D. Rosemary, R. Tenaglia, M. Rund, A. Bolewicki, S. McNamara, B. Sellman. Row 2: G. Burke, G. Socho, M. Sullivan, B. Parr, M. Loskot, A. Miller, D. Sadowski, M. Marino, R. Wisniewska, M. Piluk, N. Hortner, M. Streickler, M. Mislosky, C. Pileci, E. Stranowsky, P. Ruzek, K. Mooney, M. Mathias, J. Schrufer, M. Rowland.

CONDITIONED BY INTELLECTUAL CLIMATE,

A GOOD MEAL AND . . . the world seems different. Section 3B have beatific smiles after special Christmas luncheon of turkey and the trimmin's. Sr. Arnoldine teases all palates with daily choice servings.

JUNIORS ALERT. Section 4B, above, right, listens gravely as Theresa Kandra and Mary Peters explain significance of marriage symbol Theresa drew. Text used is Fr. Anthony Ostheimer's Principles of Democracy. Lower right: I. Vernarelli points to trouble in an algebra II problem. Text. Algebra Today, reinforces Sr. Mgt. Dolores' instructions.

JUNIORS. Row 1 (l-r): M. Matthew, N. Jones, M. Franz, A. Beam, J. Aull, M. Kaiser, J. Miller, C. Orlando, E. Janka, J. Evering, R. Ciurea, R. Fox, D. Emminizer, K. Gaitley, G. Fromhart. Row 2: J. TRIPLE ENTENTE. Social studies are begun in first year with World History, are continued in third and fourth years with POD and U. S. History. Here, Section 5B discusses current events from student news sheet.*

MATURED BY ELECTRICAL

Three big operations test the Junior Space Cadet's verve: the attainment of the school ring; presence at the Junior Prom; the successful arrangement of Junior-Senior Day activities. Each of these operations the juniors terminated on schedule with notable success. When last seen, junior pilots were busy with final exam tactics to qualify for critical senior flights.

DISCHARGES, ARE NOW

SKYROCKETING EASILY TOWARD

MAKE MINE HAWAII! Commercialites M. Cain, E. Jones, D. Gunzelman, M. Mathias, P. Sheckles, M. Mack, I. McKinnon, D. Lipka won't flounder around with time tables and plane schedules when they start to travel. Business Math teaches them how to interpret schedules as well as dicker with profit and loss.

SENIOR SOUND BARRIERS

FIRST MAGNITUDE STARS, PRIMARY PRACTICE

SECTION 1A. Room 101. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Gordia. Class Reps Beatrice Cimino and Mary Pazdurka (bottom panel, extreme left) check on school progress during Catholic Magazine Drive. Section 1A, Latin-Science and Commercial students, led all senior sections in Troubadour Patron Drive with score of 157 per cent. Helen Murray was high salesman. Various organization heads were found in 1A.

SECTION 2A. Room 102. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Erminelda. Reps Pat Kelly and Helen Harschat (second from left) bring absentee list to office, usual morning chore of reps. This Modern Classical and Commercial group boasted of AA President Muriel Himpler, senior play leads Ann Jacobs and Helen Marschat, Concertmeister Helen Lorenz.

SECTION 3A. Room 103. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Carmelia. Reps Lorraine Cork and Marie Ruzek (third from left) lay in supplies from cafeteria candy counter. This Academic Commercial and General Business group placed third for seniors in the Magazine Drive and Catholic Review; boasted of senior play star, Margaret Hartel.

SECTION 4A. Room 105. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. De Sales. Reps Dolores Tilghman and Alma Swinson (extreme right) peep in to see if chapel is completed yet. This Academic Commercial-with-Social Studies and General Business group claimed Joan Cassidy, alternate lead in Belles on Their Toes and Sodality Prefect: Julia Vachino. Patricia Topper was high salesman.

SECTION 5A. Room 106. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Canuta. Reps Josephine Livolsi and Eleanor Navarria (p. 71, extreme left) consult texts for English assignment. In Catholic Review Drive, this Academic Commercial-with-Spanish and General group tied with 1A; gave it a hard chase for premier position in the Patron Drive. Regina Dougherty, vice-president, and Rita Cituk, Varsity, starred for the class.

SECTION 6A. Room 113. Homeroom Adviser: Sr. M. Leonita. Rep Joan Bunty (p. 71, second from left) admires Associate Rep Rita Pheil's insignia after officers were formally installed on September 22. Beatrice Newberger brought fame to this Academic Commercial-with-Spanish and General group by winning $100 bond for essay on citizenship. Rita Squillante was Orchestra virtuoso.

PAST, WITH SECONDARY STUDIES SATISFIED,

In a last public address, Joan Mary Zeller, president of the 1953 class, says: "The most important thing that Catholic High has taught me is the necessity of doing one's duty for the love of God. I remember how different teachers here would remind us to rise above mere feeling to do what God expected of us. At first, it seemed stern teaching. Now, I am most grateful for the moral stiffening of that so-often repeated injunction."

"As I step into the business world," says Vice-President Regina Dougherty, "I look back with appreciation at my four years at TCHS. I feel that the varied training I received here, my responsibilities as an officer, my share in TCHS' wonderful esprit de corps have prepared me to cope more readily and, I hope, more successfully with future problems. I say with our school song: 'Viva Catholic High'."

"Somebody asked me what I would do were I just beginning my studies at TCHS," says Secretary Mary Frances Kuhn. "Participation in athletics would again be my choice, for besides teaching fair play and good sportsmanship, sports afforded me great pleasure and satisfaction. Because of the sound background I acquired in the Latin-Science course, that would again be my choice, for I intend to go to college."

Asked what she will remember of TCHS, Treasurer Helen Kirby says: "Our motto, 'Lux Tua Luceat,' will, I hope, always remind me of the principles learned in our beloved Alma Mater. Looking back, I would like to have lived up to them better, perhaps. Our motto contains an inspiring message. 'Let your light shine' are character-building words which should remind each of us to be a beacon light of good example to the world."

CALMLY PLOT ASTRONOMICAL

EFFICIENCY EXPERTS. Sections 4, 3, and 6A, respectively, seen during bookkeeping, stenography, and typewriting classes—core of the Academic Commercial course. General Business drops stenography, includes office practice.

SECTION 2A LEARNS TO USE LIBRARY TOOLS FOR TERM PAPER, PRE-COLLEGE ASSIGNMENT.

DISTANCES TOWARD, FUTURE POSSIBILITIES OF

CLASSICAL REVIEW. Chiasmi? Illustrating Latin figures of speech under expert briefing are (l-r): C. Cook, M. Dietz, M. Thomas, and G. Ichniowski. Section 1A has both Latin IV and French II from Sr. Carmelia.

THEIR PLANET OF DESTINATION . . . BUT . . .

IN THIS SIGN WE SHALL CONQUER. Section 5A, left, begins Spanish II class with sign of the cross en espanol. Every subject at TCHS is integrally related to religion, keystone of the curriculum.

GRIPPING AS A GOOD MOVIE? R. Pasciewicz, below, shows classmate important catch in trig problem. M. Ruark and M. Reuschling, at board, are working problem from text, Wentworth's Plane Trigonometry. Trig or physics is open to senior classical students.

HAIRBREADTH MOMENTS. How wide is a thread of hair? a page of a book? Senior physicists can tell for they have learned how to use the micrometer, scientific instrument for measuring the apparently immeasurable. Norma Welk and Mgte. Thomas, left foreground, find this problem hair-splitting.

WHO CAN FOLLOW THE FLIGHT OF SONG?

ORCHESTRA AND GLEE CLUB DURING TRIBUTE TO ROMBERG, BY MACLEAN.

Interplanetary travelers held their breath at the glittering constellation that swept across their astral flight on April 26 and 28 during the Musicale and Art Exhibit. It seemed as if the spheres were melodically tinkling in space. First came the sound of the TCHS Orchestra in The Thunderer (Sousa); Lustspiel Overture (Bela); The Syncopated Clock (Anderson); Selections from Sweethearts (Herbert). This was followed by the Glee Club singing, among others, In the Luxembourg Gardens (Manning); the Little Damsel (Novello); Roumanian Rhapsody (Enesco). The Verse Choir recited St. Catherine's Day and the Arrow and the Song. Fiesta Time (Eckstein), Chinese Carillon (Rozas), Rondo Alla Turca (Mozart) were sung by the A Cappella Choir. The finale dramatizing the Immaculate Conception came to sound in Glory - Glory (A. Rubenstein). The Art Department displayed the achievements of the freshmen and sophomore art classes and the oils of the 34 students from TCHS and elsewhere who take private lessons from Sr. Jane Frances.

QUEENS OF SUPERSPACE. Flight Queens in Troubadour Drive were: Miriam Kolarik, Norma Sopko (highest), J. Gilner, and M. Ruark. Here they are indicating the achievement of their respective homerooms. Posters for the drive were prepared by Sr. Jane Frances and the Art Department; echoed the theme for the 1953 edition. In the Subscription Drive in May, every homeroom subscribed to the tilt, evidence of close teamwork that pervades TCHS.

APPROACHING THE SOLO HOUR. Graduates file into the auditorium for Holy Mass on Sunday morning, May 31. The Rev. Dr. Leo J. McCormick, school superintendent, was the celebrant. Parents and friends are traditionally invited to share the central act of worship with the graduates. Former teachers from various Baltimore grade schools often attend.

HERE'S TO YOU, THE GRADUATES OF 1953!
After Holy Mass, a catered breakfast in the cafeteria completes the Baccalaureate Day program. Here are some hungry seniors ready to plunge into the first course. Singing, musical scores, and a charming favor were extra touches of approval for completing the prescribed TCHS course of studies.

FROM TCHS BASE

IN SOLO FLIGHT TOWARD

"YOU MEAN YOU WON ANOTHER SCHOLARSHIP?" gurgles Dorothy Kuhn, left, to graduate sister Mary Frances. "Yes," chortles the Kuhn heroine, "one to Notre Dame; the other to Mt. St. Agnes College." Freshman sister Loretta dreamily peruses the great news. Mary Frances also won a $100 bond in the Hire the Handicapped essay contest. Above are scenes from the graduation at the Lyric Theater where Bishop Shehan officiated.

A NEW STAR, TOMORROW, RISING IN THE WEST

You have just completed a visual and mental recall of your 1952-1953 school year. Imaginatively, we have interpreted it as SPACE FLIGHT. Much of this interpretation was grounded on solid fact. Certainly, each of us must "go it alone." Body, mind, and soul make the plane that rockets us daily beyond the point of no return. Ever before us rises the new star, the World of Tomorrow. For us, the fortunate, the star rises in our native America the Beautiful. We graduates now solo out from the great outpost that still sheds its clean white light of democracy and brotherhood against a darkening sky. Ours is a great engagement: a tremendous task. We must carry the light of Catholic education into the free space ahead. To the new World of Tomorrow we bring the rich vision of our beloved Alma Mater. She has prepared us unerringly. She tells us still: Let your light shine!
